

Palm Sunday

Life may have kept you from attending Holy Week services in the past. This might be the year for you to do a deep spiritual dive into Holy Week, either by watching our livestream, or by viewing the services at a time that best works for you. Keep God at the heart of things.

Holy Thursday, April 9, 7:00 pm

Good Friday, April 10, 12:00 pm

Easter Mass, Sunday, April 12, 10:00 am

Dear Parishioners,

We were asked not to distribute palms to you, as always for health reasons. But ...

I have it on good authority that in Russia, Poland, Ukraine and Austria, where there are no palm trees, willow branches are used instead of palms. So I invite you, go into your yard, or with your neighbor's permission their yard, and find your own worthy substitutes for the palm branches we would have distributed. Bring them to wherever you are going to watch Mass this coming Sunday, 10:00 am. Together, we'll recall our Lord's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, the royal city, before we experience the spiritual whiplash, from praise and glory to deep suffering, proclaimed in the two Gospel readings of the day.

If you happen to have a palm tree in your yard, all the better.

Also, consider wearing red, even at home (and yes, if you've been wearing your pajamas to Mass these last weeks, let them be red jammies), as an outward sign of our identification with Jesus, as his disciples, in his greatest act of fidelity and selflessness.

I'll be with you at 10:00 am.

Love from your priest,

Fr. Patrick

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 22: My God, My God

Christopher Walker

Refrain

My God, my God, my God, my God, why have you for - sak-en me, for - sak-en me, my God, my God?

1. All who see me deride me, curl their lips and toss their heads.
He trusted in the Lord; let him save him, let him release him if this is his friend.
2. Many dogs surround me, and wicked men assault me.
They tear holes in my hands and my feet; I can count every one of by bones.
3. They divide my clothes among them.
They cast lots for my robe;
O Lord, do not leave me alone!
You are my strength; make haste to help me.

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Blessed Sacrament.

I love you above all things,
and I desire you with all my heart.

Since I cannot receive You now sacramentally,

I ask You to come into my heart spiritually.

I embrace You as if You were already in my heart,
and unite myself to You completely.

Please do not ever let me be far from You. Amen.

St. Alphonse Liguori (1696-1787)

Invitation to Communion

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof,

[I'll] See You on the Other Side

This is written for submission fourteen days before it will be published. What a significance that number of days has become for us and for our global community. We have only to look across The Pond to see where we will be two weeks from the day you read this. Sometimes it causes me to tremble, tremble, tremble. It is something many of us have never seen, many are not now seeing, and many will not see.

“See you on the other side” is a phrase I have seen in print among the Tweets I follow in my attempt to understand from the epidemiologists, immunologists, historians and others who analyze factual data in my quest to confront FEAR, which I see as False Evidence Appearing Real. The ambiguity of whether the phrase pertains to the other side of this crisis or the other side of a transformed life; yes, even a resurrected life does not escape me. However, for me having knowledge of what is ahead allays fear. Both the angel [28: 5] and Jesus [28: 10] say, “Do not be afraid,” then they follow up with information as to what is ahead of the listener. So, it is with the Gospel readings of this day. The followers are told what lay ahead.

In the Gospel of the Procession, “... you will find an ass tethered ...” and instructions as to where to go and what to do. Throughout the Passion Jesus is telling his people what to do, who will do what, and what is to come. A drama unfolds. Certainly, I jumped ahead to Easter in the preceding paragraph, but the conclusion of that drama is important to me in the passion in which we are today involved. I quote from the Gospel reflection offered in Living Liturgy,

“There is a mob mentality at work and it should give us pause, not only for what happened in Jesus’ day but for how such actions continue today. False testimony, deceit, betrayal, even physical force and violence leading to death are prominently on display. The crowd, humanity itself, is only too eager to believe the worst, to mock, taunt, scourge, and kill the incarnation of love itself ... The response demanded by God of humans is faith. When faced with deceit, lies, violence, and death, God has another way, and we are invited to enter into this new way of life.”

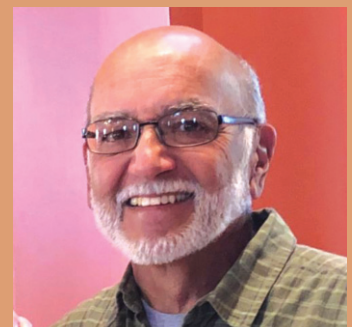

In the unprecedented absence of an Easter Vigil, we pray especially for our Elect, whose initiation has been delayed, yet are invited into this new way of life in Baptism. May our faith lived out exemplify this new life to them.

I sense The Way of the Cross will be unprecedented for us even beyond Easter. May the LORD be present in our kindness and compassion. May we all be Cyrenians and live out the Corporal and Spiritual works of mercy. May we heed and give credence to the experts in the areas of health, safety, and security of our collective well-being.

Pray for Father Patrick, all spiritual and civic leaders that they convey a global community, compassion, humility and hope. Pray for those who put themselves at risk for the sake of our health and security. Pray for the sick and dying we know and those no longer strangers due to our common suffering. Pray for those who have died before us. Continue to love one another as Jesus loved.

See you on the other side. That is Good News.

It Takes a Parish ~ Thank You!

True to the Padre Serra way, over 80 parishioners volunteered to help with grocery shopping for seniors and the health compromised among us! This response is overwhelming and demonstrates the enormity of God's love present in all of us. Our requests for help thus far have been smaller in number, but, as these days and weeks go on, no doubt the practical needs of food and supplies will increase. If you know a senior or other individuals without support, please let them know we're here to help and refer them to www.padreserra.org/news/it-takes-a-parish

Holy Week ~ the mystery of our faith

In today's gospel, we hear the words that are spoken over the bread and wine at each Eucharistic celebration: "This is my body ... This is my blood." In the Eucharist, as in his passion, death, and resurrection, Jesus gives all of himself to us. Looking ahead to Holy Week and the Triduum, what actions or practices might you embrace in response to this gift of our Lord? How will you share this Good News with another this Easter?

Safeguard the Children

Chat Rooms

Online chat rooms are great places for people to connect over shared interests and ideas. But they're also a great place for predators to lay the groundwork. Talk to your child about online safety rules, such as never agreeing to meet in person and never providing personal and identifying information. Review chats frequently to ensure that your child is engaging in safe conversations. For more tips on chat room safety, request a copy of the VIRTUS® article "Exposing the Dangers of Internet Chat Rooms" at lacatholics.org/did-you-know

Prayer Life

Stations of the Cross

The Stations of the Cross Garden is available for those who agree to maintain a 6-foot distance from others. If you come as a family, please respect the 6-foot distance others need and allow them to pass. Please do not use the plastic sheets containing the text of the stations. We have no one to sterilize them at this point and they could become a source of contagion. Instead, use the online versions, found at www.padreserra.org/stations. They work really well with your smartphone.
