GOSPEL hangout

Go beyond Sunday Mass and connect deeper with Jesus and His Church!

Gospel Hangout is an online Gospel reflection process that connects the Sunday Gospel with life through prayer and small-group conversation using Lectio Divina and Zoom small breakout rooms.

Gospel Hangout is not a scripture study; rather, it uses a reflection process for groups that invites people to reflect on how Jesus in the Gospels is intersecting with their life at this moment.

Required: Smart device or computer to access Zoom (no account is needed). Bible optional. No fee.

GATHERING10,000 Reasons (Bless the Lord)

Jonas Myrin & Matt Redman

Bless the Lord, O my soul, O my soul; Wor-ship His ho - ly name

— Sing like nev-er be-fore, O my soul; I'll wor-ship Your ho - ly name.—

1. The sun comes up, it's a new day dawning,
It's time to sing Your song again.
Whatever may pass, and whatever lies before me,
Let me be singing when the evening comes.
2. You're rich in love and You're slow to anger.
Your name is great and Your heart is kind.
For all Your goodness, I will keep on singing;
Ten thousand reasons for my heart to find.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 69: Lord, In Your Great Love, Answer Me

Kathleen MacAller

1. For your sake I bear insult, and shame covers my face.
I have become an outcast to my brothers,
a stranger to my children.
2. For zeal for your house consumes me;
I am insulted by those who blaspheme you.
I pray to you O Lord,
for the time of your favor, O God.
3. In your great kindness, answer me;
in your great mercy, turn to me.
For the Lord hears the poor,
and he spurns not his own in bondage.

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Blessed Sacrament.
 I love you above all things,
 and I desire you with all my heart.
 Since I cannot receive You
 now sacramentally,

 I embrace You as if
 You were already in my heart, and unite myself
 to You completely.
 Please do not ever let me
 be far from You.
 Amen.

Invitation to Communion

 Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter un-der my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed.

Happy Father's Day

Dear Friends,

While I usually prefer the scripture readings of the day as the subject when it's my turn to write this letter I find this time that it's Father's Day, and specifically some of what my dad taught me that are on my mind. Perhaps some of what is in the day's readings will connect.

I'm not a perfect dad by any means, nor, in spite of my best efforts, a perfect grandfather. It turns out I wasn't a perfect son either. For that matter – spoiler alert – my dad is also imperfect. But I remember as a young boy when my dad was with me in a challenging situation, I always felt protected. The middle part of today's first reading has the prophet Jeremiah (after complaining about how he is mistreated as a result of his obedience to God by all who surround him) expressing complete confidence in the Lord:

But the LORD is with me, like a mighty champion: my persecutors will stumble, they will not triumph.

This is how I hope those of us who are dads and grandfathers are experienced by those we try to love and nurture and protect, at least in our best moments. For those whose fathers did not give you that gift, know that Jesus, the perfect son of the perfect father grieves with you. And he asks his Father to be with you, to be your mighty champion.

One lesson my dad taught me early on was to always be the first to apologize, the first to ask forgiveness, because restoring the relationship is more important than being right. Dad didn't just preach this, he lived it, and modeled it, time and time again.

I have tried to treat my kids and grandkids the same way (in fact, I hope I treat everyone that way). God knows I've had lots of opportunities to apologize and try to repair relationships. I'm grateful for my dad's humble example as a way forward, over and over again.

But what about when I am in the right, when I am truly the one who "has the right" to be offended? I've found that to be hollow comfort or none at all, compared to reconciling with the other person. Often when I make the first conciliatory move, then we can talk honestly about whatever the conflict was in an atmosphere where the tension and anger have been discharged. But not always. Sometimes I, or the other person, just can't or won't have that conversation. In that case, I've been taught to pray for the other person and not that God "change" them to suit me. Then the resentment which poisons only me when I carry it can recede and I can be free. Do I do this perfectly, every time? Not at all. But it's a path my dad (and other mentors) have taught me that I've found useful, so I share it with you.

Jesus tells his apostles in today's gospel that "Nothing is concealed that will not be revealed, nor secret that will not be known." I think that includes the times we swallow our pride and let our resentments go for the sake of a relationship with another. Fr. Ron Rolheiser has written about how Jesus modeled "absorbing the tension" rather than transmitting it – the ultimate example of that being how, on the cross, he prayed "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." Happy Father's Day, everyone.

Dominic MacAller

Faith Sharing Question

Reflection questions for every gathering around any table

Matthew 10:26-33 ~ There is nothing to fear if we stay close to Jesus.

Today's passage from Matthew's Gospel is part of the missionary discourse that follows the sending out of the Twelve. Jesus tells us that he will remember us to his Father if we proclaim him to others. How easy is it for you to talk about your faith with your friends? How about your family or people you don't know very well?
