The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
 and in Jesus Christ,
 his only Son, our Lord,
*who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
 born of the Virgin Mary,*
 suffered under Pontius Pilate,
 was crucified, died and was buried;
 he descended into hell;
 on the third day he rose again
 from the dead;
 he ascended into heaven,
 and is seated at the right hand of God
 the Father almighty;
 from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
 the holy catholic Church,
 the communion of saints,
 the forgiveness of sins,
 the resurrection of the body,
 and life everlasting.
 Amen.

Jesus Has Us

Dear friends on the journey,

Today's gospel reading from Mark is a continuation of last Sunday's story of Jesus exercising his power and authority by casting out an unclean spirit from a possessed man. This week we hear that Jesus has left the synagogue and goes to Simon Peter's house to find that his mother-in-law is sick with fever. With just the grasp of Jesus' hand, the woman is healed and back on her feet, serving the guests. By evening time, word of Jesus' miracles has spread all over town, prompting people to bring their sick loved ones to Jesus so they too might be cured of their own illnesses and demons. I can just picture the scene. A long line wrapping around neighborhood of desperate and hopeful people, each of whom Jesus patiently and lovingly touches.

These miracles were not his last. We know that Jesus' remaining years of earthly ministry were filled with preaching, countless healings, and other miracles. It is through his divine nature that Jesus can perform miracles, and it is through these miracles that Jesus' identity as the Messiah, the Savior, is revealed to the people and to us. These stories and his ministry lead up to the greatest demonstration of Jesus' power to overcome death and rise to new life, bringing ultimate healing and freedom from the sin and demons in our own lives.

The human experience has never been without pain and suffering. Through the centuries, illness of mind, body, and soul has always existed. Each of us has experienced tragedy, trauma, or struggle and left with feelings of overwhelm, exhaustion, and hopelessness. These last eleven months certainly demonstrate just how much devastation we as individuals, families, communities, nation, and world have endured.

I'm not sure we question or doubt Jesus' strength and power. I think the real question is: Do we believe it for ourselves and are we able to surrender to Jesus with complete trust? Are we able to flock like the people of Capernaum to Jesus for help and healing? Will we allow God's love to help us heal? Or will we slink back, determined to do it on our own, and only when we have it all together present ourselves to God?

"The Church is not a museum for saints, but a hospital for sinners." I love this quote and believe this was Jesus' mission. After all, he spent more time with those who sinned, were sick, hungry, and hurting, generally the outcast of society. But I think the mission is twofold. Yes, he calls us to care for and serve the least among us. But when the table is turned and we are fighting the demons, Jesus wants us to come to him for the healing only he can provide. Through the Church's liturgy, sacraments, and community, we can find healing, peace, and hope.

So don't wait to be a shiny saint or do it on your own. Bring your struggle to Jesus: in prayer, to a trusted friend, to a professional or pastoral helper, to reconciliation, to the altar. Our parish community has people and ministries to help. Let's walk together in trust that Jesus has us.

Safeguard the Children

Identifying Risky Behaviors Online

As virtual learning continues, children are spending most of their days online. With their own jobs and responsibilities, parents likely cannot stand behind them and supervise their every move. So, it is more important than ever to assess your child's online activities periodically. Ensure you know which sites they are visiting and who they are talking to on social media sites. Discuss risky behaviors with your children, like posting personal information (full name, age, location, school information, and more), using inappropriate language, or accessing sites with questionable content. For more information, get a copy of the VIRTUS article "Risky Online Behaviors and Young People" from lacatholics.org/did-you-know

Mark 1: 29 - 39 ~ Jesus heals us

We learn in today's Gospel that God has the power to overcome anything. Whatever we are going through, we can trust in God's power, like Job did, and have the assurance that He has everything in control. Whether big or small, we all face tragedies that can seem overwhelming and leave us feeling hopeless. What struggles can you bring to Jesus?

Becoming Catholic

Come and See

Do you know someone who is wondering if the Catholic Church is the place for them? It could be your neighbor, your co-worker, or someone in your family. At Padre Serra, we have a group that meets on Tuesday evenings, 7:00 - 8:30 pm via Zoom, year-round, to explore what it means to be a disciple of Jesus in the Catholic tradition. The atmosphere is informal, open, and free of any pressure. Those attending are invited to ask any questions they may have followed by a discussion on various topics regarding our faith. If you know someone who might be interested, invite them to one of the meetings. For more information, please contact Catherine Shadduck at (805) 482-6417 x331 or catherine@padreserra.org
