Between Sundays

A pastoral series integrating faith into everyday living with Teresa Runyon

Tuesdays, until July 20
7:00 pm, via Zoom*

Have you ever asked yourself any of these questions: How can I be more holy? How can I pray more or better? How can I live out what I hear at Mass? How can I get through grief and loss or when relationships are difficult? Is there more to life than this? How can I live a more meaningful life? This six-part series is designed to address these questions through learning, stories, reflection, and conversation.

Attend one, two, or more of these sessions:

- June 22 - Living a prayerful life
- June 29 - Living through suffering
- July 6 - Living and loving when people are difficult
- July 13 - Living in a secular world
- July 20 - Living a meaningful life

Register at www.padreserra.org/between-sundays

*Maybe moved to in-person.

Teresa Runyon is the Faith Life Minister at Padre Serra Parish and is working toward her master's degree in pastoral ministry from St. John's Seminary. This series is the integration project that will complete the degree.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 107: Give Thanks to the Lord

Tony Alonso

Give thanks to the Lord, give thanks to the Lord, his love is ev - er - last - ing, his love is ev - er - last - ing.

1. Some went down to the sea in ships,
to trade on the mighty waters.
These have seen the deeds of the Lord,
the wonders he does in the deep.
2. For he spoke and raised up the stormwind,
tossing high the waves of the sea
that surged to heaven and dropped to the depths.
Their souls melted away in distress.
3. Then they cried to the Lord in their need,
and he rescued them from their distress.
He stilled the storm to a whisper,
and the waves of the sea were hushed.
4. They rejoiced because of the calm,
and he led them to the haven they desired.
Let the thank the Lord for his mercy,
his wonders for the children of men.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,
*who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,*
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again
from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God
the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the
living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.
Amen.

Father's Day

Dear Faith Family,

Happy Father's Day to all you great dads out there. This is my fourth Father's Day and I am definitely looking forward to eating some hot chicken sandwiches while watching some baseball ... after Mass, of course.

Before I had kids, I feel like I had a good understanding of who God is. I was raised Catholic, made my faith a priority in my life and studied theology in college. Just like everyone, I had my ups and downs, but the idea of God was understood within them. I also had a great family who were great examples of God's love. I was blessed.

When I had kids, things changed. The idea of God as my Father somehow became more clear.

Sure, it can be easy to say that God created all things and because of that, He is the Father of all created things. But when I became a father myself, I learned through my imperfections that God is the perfect Father. His unconditional love and that he is yearning to spend eternity with me in paradise has become more clear to me.

I try my hardest, but like any other person, I can fail at unconditional love. Our God does not ever fail at this.

At our Year 2 Confirmation Retreat we always talk about how the love of your parents (which is immense and admirable) is barely a blip on the radar compared to the love that your Heavenly Father has for you, which is perfect and completely unconditional. If we are so moved by an imperfect love (since we all are imperfect), how great of an impact should God's perfect love have for us?

Our Heavenly Father does not become greater/stronger with every one person who worships Him, but he does all things just to be with you. He gets nothing out of it, He just does. This idea became so clear to me once I had kids and it has helped me to become a better father. Although I have selfish streaks, I can look to my heavenly Father to take a stab at being a good dad.

Great fathers are willing to do anything for the well-being of their children. Our God did that to the point of death. While we may not be called to physically die for our families, we can sometimes be called to die in little ways for them. We may not become greater because of our love, but we are willing to sacrifice ourselves for our loved ones because it benefits them.

You deserve this day, father figures. Your unconditional love has helped others to see who God really is.

God Bless,

Brett Becker
