RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 23: Shepherd Me, O God

Marty Haugen, Gather #35

Shepherd me, O God, beyond my wants, beyond my fears, from death into life.

1. God is my shepherd, so nothing shall I want;
 I rest in the meadows of faithfulness and love;
 I walk by the quiet waters of peace.
2. Gently you raise me and heal my weary soul;
 you lead me by pathways of righteousness and truth;
 my spirit shall sing the music of your name.
3. Though I should wander the valley of death,
 I fear no evil, for you are at my side;
 your rod and your staff, my comfort and my hope.
4. You have set me a banquet of love in the face of hatred, crowning me with love beyond my pow'r to hold.
5. Surely your kindness and mercy follow me all the days of my life;
 I will dwell in the house of my God forevermore.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
 and in Jesus Christ,
 his only Son, our Lord,
*who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
 born of the Virgin Mary,*
 suffered under Pontius Pilate,
 was crucified, died and was buried;
 he descended into hell;
 on the third day he rose again
 from the dead;
 he ascended into heaven,
 and is seated at the right hand of God
 the Father almighty; from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
 the holy catholic Church,
 the communion of saints,
 the forgiveness of sins,
 the resurrection of the body,
 and life everlasting.
 Amen.

May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of His name, for our good and the good of all His holy Church.

SENDING FORTHAlleluia! Give the Glory

Ken Canedo & Bob Hurd, Gather #844

2. There is welcome for the sinner,
And a promised grace made good;
There is mercy with the Savior;
There is healing in Christ's blood.
There is grace enough for thousands
Of new worlds as great as this;
There is room for fresh creations
In that upper home of bliss.
3. For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of the mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.
If our love were but more simple,
We would know the living Word;
And our lives would be thanksgiving
In the kindness of the Lord.
4. There's a wideness in God's mercy
Like the wideness of the sea;
There's a kindness in God's justice,
Which is more than liberty.
There is plentiful redemption
In the blood that has been shed;
There is joy for all the members
In the sorrows of the Head.

Make Room for Holy Interruptions

Dear Parish Family,

As I read and meditated over the readings of this weekend, I must admit I had to re-read them several times. I have heard these readings before, yet this time I felt like I was hearing them again for the very first time, and the message was so new. In our Gospel, Mark tells us about the apostles who had returned from their mission and shared with Jesus all that they had done. Jesus, knowing they must have been exhausted, encouraged them to “Come away to a deserted place and rest.” What a wonderful request — go take a break, get some rest. Jesus knew the importance of rest; we must recharge our bodies and spirits, that we can once again return to our mission. However, when they reached their destination, they were unable to rest. The people were waiting for them; there was not time even to eat! Jesus could have sent them away but he doesn’t. He, along with his exhausted apostles, continues to teach, heal and feed the people. What happened to their plans to rest?

How often we make plans and they get interrupted. This reminded me of a story I read about a newly ordained priest, who at his first parish assignment was so excited to get started with all his plans to bring a better understanding of the Word of God to his parishioners. He would teach a group of parishioners who would then in turn teach others and so on. On the first day, when he was to teach, the cook came to him, so upset. The toilet of the sacristy had overflowed. Being that he was a handy guy, he took the time to fix it, which took up his day. On the next day, as he was heading to his gathering, a group of young children were distraught over the loss of their pet — what should they do? The young priest knew it was important to help the children, as this was their first encounter with death, and he accompanied them as they buried the pet in the backyard and prayed with them for comfort. On another day, he had one of his parishioners come by for a visit who asked Father to write a letter of recommendation for a job for her grandson, who was having a hard time finding a job.

The young priest did eventually have the time to begin his study group, even with all those interruptions. He shared that he thought the study group he was so eager to get started would make a huge change and impact to his parish community. However, he discovered that the bigger impact was made in what he now calls “holy interruptions.” Because with every interruption he had the opportunity to share the Love of God with them. The opportunity to give of himself, just like Our God is always giving himself to us. The direct encounters with the people, that made the Word of God come to life.

None of the tasks were those of priestly responsibilities. These are things that any one of us can do: fix or repair something that is broken, be physically present/accompany others in their grief or joy, write a letter, just to name a few. I think that perhaps God is trying to get our attention through the interruptions and the distractions of our ordinary day. These are opportunities to love others and put into action God’s word. Let’s make room for holy interruptions, as we go about our plans.
