The Spiritual Work of Racial Justice: A Month of Meditations with Ignatius of Loyola

Patrick Saint-Jean, S.J.

Thursday, August 12, 7:00 pm, via Zoom

Using the Ignatian retreat format, this book of meditations offers an opportunity to continue the pursuit of racial justice as a necessary component of faith. Each meditation is grounded in spiritual practices as well as history to heal our battered souls and bereaved hearts, using reflection, journaling, and reading in openness, humility, and prayer to lead us to concrete acts of love for our neighbors. Come to meet Patrick Saint-Jean, listen to his experiences and see how his new book might serve you.

Learn more and register at www.padreserra.org/cst.html#racial-justice

Patrick Saint-Jean, S.J., PsyD, currently teaches psychology Creighton University, where he is also a psychotherapist. He enjoys jazz, traveling, and learning new languages and plays the guitar, harmonica, and drums.

GATHERING

Rain Down

Jaime Cortez, Gather #582

Refrain

Rain down, rain down, rain down your love on your people. love, God of life.

Faithful and true is the word of our God. All of God's works are so worthy of trust. God's mercy falls on the just and the right; full of God's love is the earth.

We who revere and find hope in our God live in the kindness and joy of God's wing, God will protect us from darkness and death; God will not leave us to starve.

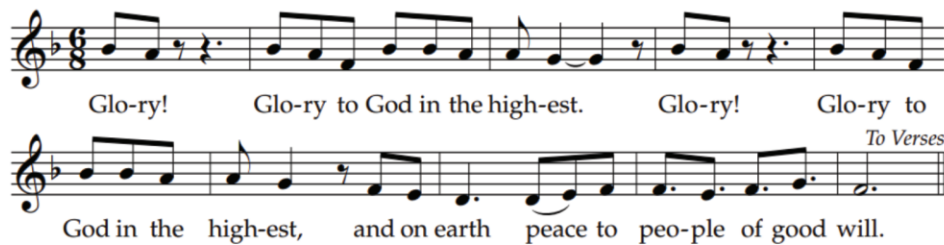

God of creation, we long for our truth; you are the water of life that we thirst. Grant that your love and your peace touch our hearts, all of our hope lies in you.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 78: The Lord Gave Them Bread

Malcolm Kogut

The Lord gave them bread, bread from heaven. heaven.

The things we have heard and known, that our ancestors have told us, must not be withheld from their children; we will tell them to the next generation: the glories of the Lord and the glorious deeds God has done.

God commanded the skies above and the gates of heaven opened. God rained down manna for their food, rained down bread from heaven.

They ate bread of the mighty angels. God had sent them abundance of food. So God brought them to his holy land, to the mountains his right hand had won.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,
*who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,*
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again
from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God
the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.

Amen.

Change Our Hearts

Rory Cooney, Gather #493

Change our hearts this time, Your word says it can be. Change our minds, this time, Your life could make us free. We are the peo - ple Your call set a - part, Lord, this time change our hearts.

Brought by your hand to the edge of our dreams. One foot in paradise, one in the waste.
Drawn by your promises, still we are lured by the shadows and the chains we leave behind. But...

Now as we watch and stretch out our hands, offering abundances, fullness of joy.
Your milk and honey seem distant, unreal, when we have bread and water in our hands. But...

Show us the way that leads to our side, over the mountains and sands of the soul.
Be for us manna, water from stone, light which says we never walk alone. And...

Break now the bread of Christ's sacrifice;
Giving thanks, hungry ones, gather round.
Eat, all of you, and be satisfied;
In Christ's presence the loaves will abound.

Seek not the food that will pass away;
Set your hearts on the food that endures.
Come learn the true and the living Way,
That the fullness of life may be yours.

Love as the One who, in love for you,
gave himself for the life of the world.
Come to the One who is food for you,
That your hunger and thirst be no more.

Take in the light that will never dim,
Taste the life that is stronger than death.
Live in the One who will come and then
Raise you up at the last with the blest.

Dwell in the One who now dwells in you;
Make your home in the life-giving Word.
Know only Christ, Holy One of God,
And believe in the truth you have heard.

Drink of this cup and declare his death;
Eat this bread and believe Easter morn;
Trust his return and, with ev'ry breath,
Praise the One in whom you are reborn.

Oh, how could it be that my God would welcome me
into this mystery?
Say, "Take this bread, take this wine"?
Now the simple made divine

By your mercy we come to your table,
by your grace you are making us faithful.

See his body, his blood,
know that he has overcome
every trial we will face.
None too lost to be saved,
none too broken or ashamed.
All are welcome in this place.
By your mercy we come to your table,
by your grace you are making us faithful.

Dying, you destroyed our death.
Rising, you restored our life.
Lord Jesus, come in glory.

The Bread of Life

Dear friends on the journey,

I've always been taken with the line in the Lord's Prayer, "give us this day our daily bread." In my Synoptic Gospels class at St. John's Seminary, an exegesis paper was the ideal opportunity to dive into this particular line in scripture from Matthew 6:11. This project was a critical explanation or interpretation of the text and to do so required much research of other scripture passages and commentaries, including Proverbs 30:8 that says "give me neither poverty nor riches; provide me only with the food I need" and today's first reading from Exodus.

The Israelites have followed Moses into the desert and are once again grumbling and worrying about food and comfort. But once again God makes a promise, the promise of a daily portion of meat and manna. However, they are instructed to only collect their daily portion, no more and no less. God's instruction is a test. Do they trust God enough to rely on his daily provision of food?

For the Israelites the manna from heaven was for their physical nourishment but in today's gospel from John, Jesus describes another type of bread from heaven. He instructs his disciples not to seek "food that perishes" but rather "for the food that endures for eternal life." Jesus is describing himself as the new bread of life for the disciples then and for us today. This new bread is our spiritual nourishment, food that never leaves us hungry or thirsty. By receiving this bread of life we are entering into and accepting a friendship with Jesus, through whom we our "nourished, fed, strengthened and become more alive."¹

Sometimes we can be like the grumbling Israelites. So today is a good time to reflect on our attitude and orientation. Are we grumbling? Do we turn to perishable material things that might taste better or feel better? Do we gather up more than we need for fear of later poverty or can we be content with just the daily necessities? Do we trust that God will provide all that we need, physically and spiritually, exactly when we need it? Are we willing to sacrifice secular or popular ways and our own ego to follow Jesus? Do we really trust this new bread of life is enough?

During the exegesis project, I couldn't help but reflect personally on the ways God had always provided for me each day so whenever I pray the words "give us this day our daily bread" I intentionally renew my trust in God to always provide and when I receive the Eucharist, I renew my faith that Jesus will always be the nourishment I need. Today, as we pray the Our Father and receive the Eucharist, may we orient ourselves towards God, towards contentment, towards recognizing God's abundant blessings in our lives, towards sharing that goodness with others, and towards a life nourished by the Jesus, the Bread of Life.

In the Community

Many Peoples, One Mother ~ August 28

Some 240 years ago a little town was born, originally named El Pueblo de la Reyna de Los Angeles (The Pueblo of the Queen of the Angels) after our loving Mother Mary. That pueblo is now simply called Los Angeles. As a settlement of Gabrieleno Indians later joined by European missionaries and Mexican settlers, the pueblo has continued to grow in both size and diversity. The foundation and growth of Los Angeles under the care of our patroness Mary Queen of the Angels is a woven tapestry of faith and peoples. Come celebrate the many peoples, one mother with Mass at 3:00 pm at the Cathedral or livestream www.facebook.com/lacatholics

Giving

Special Mission Collection - Diocese of Awka-Nigeria

Awka is a small and rural diocese, but it has a large population of Catholics. Some of its parishes have no church buildings and cannot care for other basic needs. These communities need a place for worship and care for their communities. The funds gathered in today's appeal will assist St. Paul's Catholic Community to realize its dream for a church to shelter the parishioners. May Almighty God bless you for your generosity.
