RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 85: Lord, Let Us See Your Kindness

Marty Haugen, Gather #62

Lord, let us see your kind - ness;
 Lord, let us see your kind - ness.

Let us hear what our God proclaims:
 Peace to the people of God,
 salvation is near to the ones who fear God.

Kindness and truth, justice and peace;
 truth shall spring up as the water from the earth.
 Justice shall rain from the heavens.

The Lord will come, and you shall know his love.
 Justice shall walk in his pathways—salvation, the gift that he brings.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
 and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
 suffered under Pontius Pilate,
 was crucified, died and was buried;
 he descended into hell;
 on the third day he rose again
 from the dead;
 he ascended into heaven,
 and is seated at the right hand of God
 the Father almighty;
 from there he will come to judge
 the living and the dead.
 I believe in the Holy Spirit,
 the holy catholic Church,
 the communion of saints,
 the forgiveness of sins,
 the resurrection of the body,
 and life everlasting.
 Amen.

Be With Me, Lord

Sarah Hart & Curtis Stephan

Be with me, Lord, when I am in trou - - ble. Be with me, Lord, be with me.

You who rest in the shadow of the Lord and abide in the presence of God, say with your heart, "My shelter and strength,
 my God, in you I trust."

If you stumble they will catch you;
 they will keep you from falling down.
 From the den of the lion
 and the threat of the snake
 you will escape unharmed.

Evil will not fall upon you;
 no affliction will find your door.
 For the angels have been sent to protect you,
 and guard you in all your ways.

Call and I will answer, says the Lord,
 trust and know I am here.
 Cling to me with your life:
 there is nothing you should fear.

Verses

Refrain

No storm can shake my in-most calm, While to that rock I'm

How can I keep from sing - ing?

Text: 87 87 with refrain; attr. to Robert Lowry, 1826-1899, alt.; verse 3, Doris Plenn. Music: Quaker Hymn; attr. to Robert Lowry.

Through all the tumult and the strife,
I hear that music ringing;
It sounds and echoes in my soul;
How can I keep from singing?

What though the tempest 'round me roar,
I hear the truth it liveth.
What though the darkness 'round me close,
Songs in the night it giveth.

When tyrants tremble, sick with fear,
And their death knells ringing;
When friends rejoice both far and near,
How can I keep from singing?

The peace of Christ makes fresh my heart,
A fountain ever springing.
All things are mine since I am his;
How can I keep from singing?

Of Practice and Clarity

Reflecting on our first reading, I began to wonder ... what was it that enabled Elijah to hear the Lord's voice beyond earthquake and fire into the whispering wind? The answer may lie firmly in his commitment to serve God continually even in the midst of conflict or challenges. No matter what was going on in his life, Elijah spent time with the Lord listening intently. He had learned the art and discipline to hear His call. I suspect that practice also played a role; an example can help us to reach a similar connection in our own lives.

For over 10 years, Diana and I sat in front of the television on Wednesday nights and enjoyed Dancing With the Stars. We watched as celebrities with little if any dance training, practiced and improved their steps competing for the coveted mirrored ball trophy. They adapted their styles, fought through difficult dances, sometimes complained, and doubted their abilities. They ultimately delivered something absolutely beautiful. Both of us appreciated the tremendous efforts and continued growth that existed in less than perfect scores.

While practice did not create the innate beauty of the dances nor the desire to participate in the first place, it did make it easier to achieve over time. The same can be said of our spiritual journey not unlike Elijah's. We have within us the presence of the Holy Spirit eager to share her love, support, and guidance. Ours is to prepare ourselves to recognize the invitation and act upon it in trust no matter the circumstances faced.

Our own lives are filled with occasions to place God at the forefront of our decisions. These exist at every turn but are at times difficult to discern. By adding simple but powerful practices, we are afforded opportunities to hear His call and voice more clearly.

Similar to enthusiastic dancers, putting the Lord's will first does not mean we have to follow a prescribed formula. We can, however, benefit by displaying continuity in our practices both collectively as well as individually. This can be done communally by breaking bread with a friend, attending daily and weekly Mass, sharing a bible study session, or praying together. We can follow Jesus' example by stepping away alone for time to pray and encounter our intimate moments with God. Silent retreats, personal reflections, morning, and night prayers are wonderful ways to achieve this.

How we chose to participate may be as varied as opportunities presented us. Nonetheless, just know that whatever we select will indeed allow us to gain greater clarity even in the softest of voices.

Endless Blessings,

Deacon Luc and Diana Papillon

Matthew 14:22-33 ~ Lord, save me!

In today's Gospel, Peter began to walk on the water when he was focused on Jesus. The presence of God in Jesus is Peter's strength, but he began to sink when he got distracted by the storm. What is your life like when you are focused on Jesus and your relationship with God? How is it different when you get caught up in other things?
